

Olivier Merle

Olivier Merle is a polymer engineer holding an MBA degree.

With more than 25 years at Arkema in various functions, from technical assistant to auditor, Olivier has recently left the oil/gas sector to join the very exciting journey of biobased materials dedicated to textiles in his new function as "Global Market Manager for the Textile market".

Olivier is also a fanatic of skiing and diving.